1999 MVP

Class B

In his own words: 1999 was a fun State Tournament. We played some of the best teams in the state that tournament and opened our first game against Chaska who we played for the championship the year prior. They seemed like the same team we played in 1998. I remember hitting a hanging curveball out of the park that game to put us in the lead and then our whole team started hitting the ball all over the park to 10-run them. It set the tone for the rest of the tournament.

The baseball looked like a softball when I was at the plate the whole tournament. We played well as a team with a close game against Rochester beating them 7-5. They had a right hander that threw hard in relief, and he hit me with a fastball in the back of my tricep, hitting me so square that the ball fell straight down after it hit me. I had a bruise that you could see the seams of the ball tattooed on my arm during the championship game.

We also had an extra inning game in the semi-final game against Cold Spring which I thought was better than Rochester as a team that year.

I remember Rochester 10-running us the first game of the final day, but they had to beat us twice to win the tournament. I got a second crack at the guy who beamed me two days prior. I came up with bases loaded and still a close game. He was going to bring his best pitch, fastball, and this time I was ready. After my grand slam, the rest of the guys kept hitting until we 10-runned them.
