Holdingsford

2005 MVP

Class C

In his own words: That Milroy game was the one that I remember (Holdingsford 4, Milroy 0). That was because one of my college teammates, Drew Van Loy, was pitching against us. He was actually getting married the next day. I don't think I was set to pitch that day so we kind of had to flip-flop because had we lost I wouldn't have been able to throw the next day because I was in Drew's wedding. That win put us in the finals of the winners' bracket against Carlos.

I threw the St. Francis game to win it (Holdingsford 5, St. Francis 1). I was actually drafted twice that year. I was with Sobieski through the region tournament. We got beat in the region tournament and then Holdingsford drafted me. I wish I could say it was the only time it happened. Typically, it was Sobieski finding their way in. I never went with my own team, Randall. I probably played in 15 state tournaments and never once with my own team.

It was just so long ago now, I only remember bits and pieces of it. Now I'm chasing my own kids and their baseball. It's a little less taxing on my body.
